Beauty
Secrets For the Working Girl From Pretty Belle Baker

Miss Belle Baker.

By Lillian Lanterby.

I was a little five-dollar-a-week shop girl, and some of the comforts of home luxuries society lady told me how to acquire charm and loveliness. I might reflect that it is easy to be dainty and sweet when you have no handiwork like mine, but instead, a flying start like hers. However, if a girl whose handiwork was far greater than mine had ever been to tell me how to be lovely on my 'five per' I think I would listen.

So please hearken to Belle Baker, who started her career in a "radio-waiter" factory, when she was nine years old, and now—after a lapse of ten years, as the programs say—is a popular vaudeville star, who has just returned from a happy tour of the Orpheum circuit.

"They used to hide me in a box of wafers when the inspector came around, and finally they were afraid to keep me at the factory," said the dark-eyed Belle. "So I had to leave and find work in another factory, for I was the oldest of six children, and we were poor in a way you probably know nothing about. Factory work was a factory discipline, for we were afraid to keep a child so young in their employ. I tried selling lemonade and newspapers, and a lot of other work so hard and made so little money that I finally went to a male hall and offered my services for a week. They just gave me a chance to sing."

"I can't tell you that I had a beautiful voice and my self-confidence must have impressed them, for they tried me and then gave me the princely salary of three dollars a week. In three years I worked up to fifteen—and so I can talk to wage earners on my own level, even though the last three years have brought me far more than three children out in the country. They look to me for everything, and so I am ready to talk about how to look as well as possible on as little money as possible."

"Now, I think that cheap little dresses may be just as sweet as most expensive things. And if you are clever at copying, you may go and look in the Fifth Avenue windows quite free of charge, and copy a forty dollar hat for four dollars. I know, for I have done it, and still do it now and then. I have copied hats, shoes, and women—and then in simple materials copy whatever of their costumes will be in good taste for your own money. But the girl on small salary who wants to have all the things her wealthy sisters have will often look so overdressed as to bring a question of her respectability—and she won't save. And the poor girl must cultivate the habit of saving—or whenever she thinks about the possible rainy day, way, then unbecoming worry wrinkles come."

"A poor girl who wants to look well must patronize East Side tailors and bring them Fifth Avenue ideas, and must pick up bargain basement silk stockings of the best house variety at twelve and a half cents a pair, if she wants to wear silk hosiery."

Beauty Hints.

"I believe the poor girl's greatest help toward beauty is health. Milk and bread for lunch instead of doughnuts and pie, and chocolate eclairs—more fruit and less sweets, and two or three days are not too many in the hot summer days. But a daily bath with all the sensible food we can possibly afford, and a jar of good cold cream to take the city dust out of the pores of her face are the best beauty hints for the poor girl—or her rich sister—that I know."

"Don't envy the girl who has more than you—try to get happiness right at home by bringing it there, and feel rich instead of rushing feverishly off to have a 'good time' when you come home all tired from work. For if you look sweet and daintily clean and healthy, and that few make cherries in the ambition I share with all of you—to make good."

And this is pretty Belle Baker's kind message to all her little sisters of toil.

WERE HOLDUP OF TWO AMERICANS

Arrest of Biesel and McDonald Was to Extort Money; Refugees Talk.

Refugees from Chihuahua declare that the reason for the arrest of Biesel and McDonald was their refusal to enter into an agreement with Gen. Orozco whereby he was to have $200,000, the Dolores Mining company to pay Gen. Orozco a commission of 5 percent. It is understood that Mr. Biesel has made an affidavit to this effect, and that his affidavit has been sent, not only to the state department at Washington, but also to president Woodrow Wilson.

Gen. Orozco was very friendly with them until the afternoon of July 17, the day following their arrest at which time he made this proposition. Up to that time he had taken all his meals with Biesel and McDonald, but after their refusal of his proposition, Gen. Orozco had no further intercourse with them.

In regard to Ray Harrell, Biesel's chauffeur, it appears there was no charge against him. In fact, he was released while in Chihuahua, but was instructed to have the automobile in which they had traveled ready at a certain hour to take the refugees to the joy riding. He informed them that the machine was in the garage undergoing repairs and would probably not be ready at that time. He was then told to have his machine ready to take these parties on the following day, but when the hour arrived he found the machine was not ready. He was then told that it appeared he was obstinate in the matter, and would be locked up, which was done.

MacDonald, Biesel and Harrell were arrested at Chihuahua on July 18. It is stated that these men, though arrested on July 18, did not arrive at Chihuahua until the 22d. He then made an affidavit in which he stated that he had entered into an agreement with the rebels whereby they were to be allowed to bring out several hundred thousand dollars' worth of bullion from the different mines of which Mr. Biesel is general manager.

Friction Between Mercado and Orozco.

Apparently there is more or less friction between Gen. Orozco and Gen. Mercado. At the time of the arrival of Gen. Orozco in Chihuahua, July 22, a holiday was declared and the intention was to have given Gen. Orozco a warm welcome. In fact, it was expected that it would be in the nature of an ovation. These plans were frustrated, however, and Gen. Orozco did not arrive at the appointed time. The new hour was appointed and given out by the press, and he finally arrived, previous to that hour. The route of march was changed, so that Gen. Orozco did not pass through the principal streets, where the people of the better class were stationed.

Since Gen. Orozco's arrival he has apparently been actively engaged in his own initiative in all matters concerning the movement of troops under his command. In making his plans, he always states that he will do what the government will do, but what he individually proposes to do, and in an interview given out recently, he asked if he intended to become governor of the state, his answer was: "I cannot talk about that. When the time comes, the people will choose their candidate."

When the trains left Chihuahua on Wednesday morning it was the understanding that Orozco with about 500 volunteers, was going west, with the intention of repairing the Northwestern railway and operating it between Chihuahua and El Paso. It is said that there are some 3,500 crosses at Manaca, 125 miles west of Chihuahua, which are needed for repairs on the National line, and it is probable that these are in that the trains have been sent out.

Arrest Madera Americans.

Little is known in Chihuahua in regard to the Americans at Madera, as this matter seems to have been kept up to this time from Juarez, rather than from Chihuahua, and therefore has never been in connection with hands. It is not generally believed, however, that any great danger existed at Madera, unless at the hands of irresponsible bandits, not attached to either federal or rebels. There was a rumor, however, that the federalists intended sending out to Madera, resting some of the Americans there, who are said to have taken part in a banquet given to Villita on the 10th of June, when he passed through that place on his way north. Nothing definite can be learned, however, as to the fate of these Americans.

Torreson Isolated for Two Months.

Americans arriving in Chihuahua from Torreson stated that that place had been entirely cut off from railway and telegraphic communication for two months or more, except that on one day, about July 10, a telephone line was operating for some 10 or 12 hours, but it was used entirely by the government, and no messages were allowed to be sent out.

Gen. Orozco left Torreson about the 20th of July. On July 16, military trains which had fought their way through from Mexico City, arrived in Torreson with 2,500 federal troops, but the line was immediately cut behind them and no further communication could be had. Under the arrival of the 2,500 federal troops the volunteers of 800 men under J. J. Campos were disbanded by the federalists, as they stated that they could neither trust nor control these forces.

Money Scarcity in Chihuahua.

There is a great scarcity of money in Chihuahua for the payment of federal forces. It is stated that the local banks have advanced about three millions to the military authorities, and since communication has been shut off from the city of Mexico, the banks are extremely short of cash at present, and several meetings have been called for the purpose of formulating plans and severing money for the payment of troops.

The military officials have requested the merchants to deposit all the money possible in order that the banks may be able to cash the checks on Mexico City. The business men have not responded to this request, however, apparently fearing that the same state of affairs may exist in several other states, and that too many checks will be issued against Mexico City before final liquidation is made.

Refugees from Madera.

Nothing has been heard by the Madera company here of the reported arrival of Felix Terrazas's federal irregulars in Madera, Chihuahua. The superintendent of the logging department of the Madera company, has arrived in El Paso, having come overland from Madera with a party of Americans on a handcar. They reported everything all right since Villita chased the bandits out of the town.

RICH BULLION ARRIVES.

Rebels in Mexico overlooked a rich haul when they permitted the 31 cars of bullion to come through from Chihuahua to Juarez for the El Paso smelter. The cars are said to have contained $4,000,000 worth of gold and silver, and that too many checks will be issued against Mexico City before final liquidation is made.

Above the 17th the rebel forces suddenly disappeared from the immediate vicinity of Chihuahua. The lines were left unguarded and the federalists forced their way in and out of the city. Alberto Terrazas, son of Gen. Luis Terrazas, formerly raised and equipped a force of 300 volunteers, which he brought north on the National line, and finally bridges that had been burned by the rebels, and finally establishing communication with headquarters.

RABAGO OUT AS GOVERNOR

Salvador R. Mercado continues to act as governor. Acting governor Mercado says that 1000 federal troops will hereafter be employed in guarding the railroad to the border and that military trains are to be continually operated between the capital and Juarez.

In the freight trains which have arrived there were 17 cars of sugar, 10 of general merchandise, nine of coal, two of mail, five of alfalfa, four of coffee, and mixed cars of various articles of necessity.

It is estimated that seven thousand refugees from different parts of the state have arrived in this city during the past three weeks. The present population of this city is estimated at 47,000 as a result. This influx is due chiefly to the activities of rebels now in the interior. The better class of people prefer to leave their homes for some large city where they can be under the protection of the government troops.

Eduardo Juarez has been appointed postmaster at Chihuahua City, succeeding Alfonso M. Benavides, who has been given an office in the southern part of the republic.

DEL VALLE SAYS ALL IS LOVELY

There is no Mexican sentiment against Americans, says Bryan's Special Agent.

Los Angeles, Calif., Aug. 4.—Reginaldo Del Valle is at home today, after having reported to president Wilson at Washington the results of his mission as special commissioner of the American state department to Mexico.

He declared reports that the governments had sent ultimata or were intending to take liberties with the Mexican constitution were false.

"Foreigners in Mexico are friendly to the United States," he said, "and have no desire to precipitate trouble. They understand that they must have patience."

Mr. Del Valle said he talked to 1500 Mexicans, of all classes, and while he found some feeling against Americans, as a class, due to baseless beliefs, the Americans individually were well liked.

Regarding reports of organized attempts to colonize Japanese in Mexico, Mr. Del Valle said that the Japanese colonization amounts to nothing.

PESQUIERA IS MADE LEADER OF REBELS

Acting Rebel Governor of Sonora Becomes Military Chief of the Forces.

Cannanea, Sonora, Mex., Aug. 4.—Ignacio L. Pesquiera, who has been acting as temporary governor of the state of Sonora since March, 1913, has been named by the rebels as military leader of the rebels of the north. On the train were three companies of state troops who had been in Cannanea for a week on a furlough, and who are on their way to the front again.

Prior to leaving Cannanea, Pesquiera said that he believed that the Guymans campaign would be renewed with force.

The former governor was tendered a banquet and ball at the Hotel Sonora, at which there was an immense crowd. The advertised state deputies and members of the supreme court of the state, has been postponed indefinitely due to the present unsettled conditions.

DATE IS SET FOR FAIR AT PORTALES

Portales, N. M., Aug. 4.—The board of directors of the Roosevelt County fair association held a meeting to set a time for holding the fair this year. Thursday and Friday, Oct. 3 and 4, were proposed as the most suitable time, as this will afford ample time for the maturing of all farm crops and will also enable the directors to get the best exhibits to Albuquerque. The date for the state fair, which opens Oct. 6, owing to the fact that some of the directors were not present at this meeting the list of prizes to be awarded was deferred until the next meeting.

"Buffalo" Jones, the famous roper-hunter, is in Portales. He has a herd of about 100 and some Persian sheep and a few milch cows and a few head of cattle. Mr. Jones expects to leave soon on another trip to Africa, this time to capture a gorilla, which is given up to be one of the most dangerous of all wild animals. It is reported that he is to receive $25,000 if he succeeds in delivering to a circus in New York city, a live adult gorilla.

CONSUL PACKS UP, BUT CANNOT MOVE OFFICE

The Mexican consulate, on Oregon street, which is the sister of the Cuples building until the last of the week. After the consul had packed all of his effects and the sister was to take, Charles Adams, aged 30, became entangled in undergrowth and before he could be rescued was drowned. In their efforts to save him, his two younger sisters and a brother threw him the oars of the boat and they drifted about an hour before being rescued. A stranger, who went to the rescue, also had his feet tangled and nearly lost his life.

HARRELL WIRE THAT HE IS NO LONGER A PRISONER

Mrs. Ray Harrell has received a message from her husband, who was imprisoned at Chihuahua, saying that he has been released, but did not know whether he, Biesel and McDonald, intended to bring out, or would return to El Paso in Harrell's auto. The original plan was to bring out a pack train load of bullion which had accumulated at the mines, of which Biesel is general manager. The trouble is said to have resulted from a disagreement between Biesel and Orozco over the amount of bullion which would be contributed to the federal cause.

REFUGEES FROM MADERA SAY TERRAZAS NOT THERE

Nothing has been heard by the Madera company here of the reported arrival of Felix Terrazas's federal irregulars in Madera, Chihuahua. The superintendent of the logging department of the Madera company, has arrived in El Paso, having come overland from Madera with a party of Americans on a handcar. FEDERALS FIRE ON AMERICANS

One Man Escapes Over the River and the Other Is Made Prisoner.

Four or five shots in rapid succession, opposite the Union depot on the Mexican side, started the El Paso residents along the river shortly after 1 o'clock Monday afternoon.

A squad of federal soldiers numbering between 20 and 30 were chasing two men who looked like Americans, along the river bank, and were shooting at them in an effort to stop their flight. One of the men jumped the small stretch of water in the Rio Grande and ran across the river bed to the American side, while the soldiers pursued the other as far as the grove, where he was captured.

From what could be ascertained, the man who escaped across the river was an American. He had his coat rolled up under his arm and lost no time getting back into the business section of the city. The captured refugee was taken back to Juarez by the soldiers, accompanied by a large crowd of Mexicans.
